

NO DECISION FOR A WEEK

Gov. Felker Directs Counsel to File Briefs in the Thaw Case

PLAIN WORDS FROM JEROME

Says Thaw Is a "Vicious Degenerate and a Murderous Lunatic"

Concord, Sept. 24.—The duty of New Hampshire toward Harry K. Thaw was the subject of exhaustive argument before Governor Felker yesterday. The legal battle in which William T. Jerome, special deputy attorney general of New York, seeks to obtain the extradition of Thaw as a fugitive from justice pitted against three of the fugitive's array of counsel was dramatic at times and near the close came dangerously near to being personal.

To the charge that he had resorted to subterfuge and was moved by other doubtful motives, Jerome retorted the state of New York would not permit its justice to be defeated by corrupt use of Thaw's money.

At the conclusion, the governor gave counsel until Monday to file supplementary briefs and his decision will not be known for a week at least.

After former Judge William M. Chase and former Gov. William Stone of Pennsylvania, in pleading for Thaw had emphasized the common belief that no bill had been brought against their client and accordingly there was no evidence before the governor that New York intended to place Thaw on trial, Jerome announced an indictment had been found by the Dutchess county grand jury and had been kept secret at the special order of the attorney general through him.

He went further and said Thaw would be placed on trial if he returned to New York. He said the indictment was kept secret in order that he might present to the grand jury evidence against "the instigator of this plot, a man of more importance than any one yet mentioned in this proceeding."

Jerome said: "From the very hour Stanford White lay dead in the pool garden in the city of New York it has been repeatedly said that in the Thaw money would defeat the ends of justice. So far it has not entirely accomplished it."

"But wherever the case has gone and wherever it has rested it has left a trail of ignominy, disgrace, filth and scandal behind it that has been absolutely appalling and that is why New York wants back the man whom it regards as a homicidal lunatic when influenced by his insane delusions and a vicious, degenerate at other times, a man criminal in his lucid intervals and dangerous in his insane ones."

HEARD GROANS FROM TRUNK

Expressman Alarms Police and Auto of Mystery Is Sought.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—The police yesterday sent out a general alarm to all nearby cities for an automobile truck heavily hooded with storm cloths and bearing two different Illinois license numbers.

Louis Bren, an express driver, who carried a huge trunk to a waiting auto early yesterday, ran into police headquarters frightened out of his wits and reported that he had heard muffled groans issuing from the trunk. He furnished the police with a good description of the two men, who speeded away with the trunk.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma Kept Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick with a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff itching scalp and falling hair.

MERCHANT IS SLAIN IN HOTEL

The Murderer Leaves a Note Telling of His Crime—Said He Started to Rob Merchant, Then Shot Him.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 24.—The body of Joseph Schlansky, a merchant, was found late Monday night in a room at a local hotel, which had been occupied by a young man who had registered as "W. R. Anderson, Louisville, Kentucky."

A strong cord had been tied around the merchant's throat and he had been shot through the head. Anderson, who is said to have told that he was a salesman, called at Schlansky's store Monday and asked him to go to his room at the hotel, where he said he had something to show the merchant. "When Schlansky failed to return that night, his family notified the police."

WRECK REPORT SECRET.

Published Accounts Are Therefore Inaccurate.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Howard Elliott, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, conferred yesterday with the interstate commerce commission on conditions upon his lines. He was particularly concerned about the forthcoming report of the commission on the Wallingford rear-end collision, which is to be made public late today. President Elliott was given no inkling of the character of the report prepared by Commissioner McChord, after an exhaustive personal investigation. He was assured, however, that published forecasts of the findings of the commission were unauthorized, misleading and essentially inaccurate. Both Commissioner McChord and Inspector Belnap have not only analyzed thoroughly the evidence they adduced themselves, but have carefully considered the testimony at the coroner's inquest. Their conclusions, therefore, are based upon a thorough knowledge of the conditions surrounding the disaster and the operations which were the human factors in it. Beyond the statement that any forecast of the report thus far is premature and inaccurate, Commissioner McChord declined yesterday to go. It is known, however, that it will contain not only a severe arraignment of operating conditions upon the New Haven, but of men. Responsibility for the accident is placed definitely on "man fault" being an important factor. Probabilities are strong that the commission, in its forthcoming annual report, will recommend to Congress the enactment of legislation that will reduce materially the chances of serious railway disasters.

IN BOSTON MARKETS.

Fresh Eggs Scarce and Firm, and Butter Remains Rather High.

Boston, Sept. 24.—There is no special change in the local butter, cheese and egg markets from last reports. The weather is against a good movement of butter and high prices also tend to restrict the demand to some extent, but dealers are not disturbed by these conditions since there are no burdensome accumulations and a steady decline in the market. With storage stocks also working down, there is a belief that the winter supply will be none too large for wants; consequently there is no pressure to sell and prices hold firm.

The primary cheese markets continue to work higher and a very firm tone marks the local market. Pastureage is poor in the producing sections, and with the cows going dry, the flow of milk is much smaller than it was recently. There is still such a strong demand for milk that the cheese makers have much trouble in securing supplies, and the make of cheese, in consequence, is diminishing. There is no scarcity of cheese here, but holders are firm because they believe all the cheese that is, and will be, available during the next few months will be needed. Fresh eggs are still scarce and firmly held.

Jobbing quotations: Butter—Fancy Northern creamery, tubs 34½@35c, boxes 35½@36c, prints 36@37½c; fancy Western creamery in tubs, 33@34c; good to choice creamery, 31@32c; fair to good 29@30c. Cheese—New York twins, fancy 17½@18c, fair to good 16½@17c; Young Americans 15½@16c; sage 16@17½c. Eggs—Fancy homery 44@45c; choice Tastern 40@42c; fresh Western extras 35@37c; firsts 29@31c; storage extras 28@30c.

CATTLE RECEIPTS LARGE.

Prices at Brighton Market Fairly Firm, However.

Boston, Sept. 24.—Prices were fairly firm at the Brighton cattle market yesterday morning, in spite of heavy receipts. Cows were especially plentiful, but demand was active, and prices for beef were about the same as a week ago.

A good supply of heavy cattle was offered, but prices were firm and well sustained. Tops sold at 8@8½c, but one choice pair from Hiram, Me., sold above this figure. Average cattle sold at 6½@7½c.

Beef cows were steady for the best, but cheap stuff and canners sold at better prices, though the supply was large. Best cows brought 5½@6½c, with an occasional fancy cow bringing a fraction more. Average beef cows sold at 5@5½c, with ordinary cows at 4@4½c and canners at 3½@4c. One ear of Canadian cattle was on the market, but prices came within the range given above.

The supply of calves was large and prices slightly easier, especially for mixed lots. Tops brought 9@10c, though only a few were good enough to bring top prices. Mixed lots brought 8@9c, average lots 6½@7½c, and grassers 5@6c. Hogs were firmer again, packers having marked up prices one-quarter of a cent, owing to light offerings and higher markets in the West. Sales were made of good lots at 9@9½c, with an occasional fancy lot bringing 9.25 cents. Rough lots sold at 8¼@8½c, and hogs at 5@5½c. Sheep and lambs were easier, though supplies were moderate. Lambs sold at 5@5½c and sheep at 3½@4c.

Milk cows were in very heavy supply, more cows being in the barns yesterday morning than ever known before. Drivers say that the drought and short feed is driving the farmers to sacrifice their livestock. Prices ranged from $23@$35 for ordinary cows to $75@$85 and up for fancy milkers.

several hundred packers the shock of their lives when, as a guest at the $125,000 English hunting banquet given Monday night by the meat packers, he pointed out in the plainest sort of language just what they were doing by creating and dominating an "exclusive class of captains of industry."

Nelson Morris, Edward F. Smith, Lawrence A. Armour and a score of other meat barons were present when Mr. White responded to the toast "The Social Side of Business," and said:

"In just the degree that you create a dominant and exclusive class of captains of industry, each having despotic rule over thousands of routine subordinates from whom all aspiration and ambition has been crushed by the hopelessness of advancement, in just that degree you have weakened the citizenship of America."

"If you reduce men to the level of mere employees without hope of promotion or success in life you have killed the citizenship in these men. You have killed their initiative and their chance of advancement by perseverance, industry and effort. Collectivism and combination means the suppression of the individual. It is a grave question as to what the outcome will be upon citizenship."

Aside from the remarks of Mr. White, the banquet moved along nicely.

LOVER BARRED AT SOPHIA'S FUNERAL

All Money in World Couldn't Bridge Gulf Between Them, Says Prince.

London, Sept. 24.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Heidelberg says he has been personally requested by Prince William of Saxe-Weimar to publish the following statement concerning the prince's daughter, Princess Sophia, who was found shot dead Thursday and whose suicide has been attributed to the fact that she was not allowed to marry the young banker von Bleichroeder.

"Baron Hans von Bleichroeder, like all acquaintances of the house of Saxe-Weimar, had a farewell view of the departed, but he was expressly forbidden to take part in the funeral or to attend the cremation."

"As for the stories set in circulation in regard to a marriage between Princess Sophia and Baron von Bleichroeder, there only needs to be repeated the oft-spoken statement of her father, that all the money in the world would never have sufficed to bridge over the gulf between a princess of Saxe-Weimar and Baron von Bleichroeder."

George Whitman, the new outlander of the Highlanders, is 28 years old, not 33, as some have insisted. Whitman is a speedy man and great things are expected of him in the American league next season. He is just old enough to break successfully into the big league.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Seven Hours in New York" at Opera House Friday Evening.

The title of the latest production in musical comedy, "Seven Hours in New York" suggests a world of incident. A thousand things might happen in that space of time. The sprightly adventures of a sedate gentleman and a few friends in the metropolis between the hours of 9 p. m. and 4 a. m., the miscellaneous collection of people they encounter, not forgetting the group of lively cabaret girls. But so cleverly has the author constructed the plot, no hint of vulgarity is offered. But it is all natural, and very, very funny. There are more than a dozen pretty changes of costume, a stage full of pretty girls to wear them. The principal members of the large cast are all artists of ability. The song numbers, of which there are eighteen, are of the light catchy order. The management have provided a complete scenic equipment. "Seven Hours in New York" will be seen at the opera house next Friday, September 20th.—Adv.

FRESH FORM LONDON TRIUMPH.

Mdme. Scotney, Operatic Star, to Sing in This City Thursday, Sept. 25.

Much interest is being manifested in the coming of Mdme. Evelyn Scotney, soprano of the Boston Opera company, who will sing in concert here.

She comes direct from her great success at Covent Garden, London, England, where she sang in opera with such stars as Melba and Caruso.

It is fortunate she was engaged early last summer, for high offers by noted musical managers are being made her constantly. The Lyceum Bureau, from which we engage her for her appearance here, felt sure of her ultimate success.

MDME. EVELYN SCOTNEY Of the Boston Opera Company.

and secured a contract with her before she made her big hit in Boston, so the terms are within our reach. Yet an artist just as great is being offered our people to hear and enjoy, as if we were paying her $500 or $700, which, it is predicted, will be her fee next season, so great has been her success.

Mdme. Scotney was born in Melbourne, Australia, where the great Melba, hearing her sing, was so delighted with her voice that she took her to Europe and insisted on coaching her personally. Later, through the influence of the great prima donna, Mdme. Scotney became the pupil of Marchesi and Toselli. At a private recital in London, Director Henry Russell of the Boston Opera Co. heard her and engaged her for several opera seasons in America. It is only for the limited time before the opera season opens that she is available, and we have been fortunate in securing one of the premiss dates.

Mdme. Scotney will be assisted by three fine artists. Her accompaniments will be played by Frank Waller, the assistant conductor of the Boston Opera company.—Adv.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Poultry, butter and eggs may drop slightly in price as the result of a move started yesterday at the convention of the National Poultry Butter & Eggs association, which opened its sessions under the auspices of the third International Congress of Refrigeration.

The remedy proposed was that of perfecting the present method of packing and shipping to do away with waste, for which the ultimate consumer must now pay. F. G. Urner, member of the association, declared that in the move the housewife might find reason to look for lower prices.

In its decision the court announced that the writ had been irregularly served, and granted the application of the government authorities to have it quashed.

FAVORS THE COMMERCE COURT.

Atty. Gen. McReynolds Urges That It Be Continued and Strengthened.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Attorney General McReynolds favors the continuation of the commerce court and yesterday recommended to the Senate appropriation committee that instead of abolishing it as contemplated by a bill which has passed the House, the court be strengthened by broadening its powers, to take appeals from the Philippines and Porto Rico, which now go direct to the supreme court. The proposition to abolish the offices of judges of the commerce court, the attorney general regarded as a bad precedent. The attorney general said in response to questions that his recommendations represented his personal views and not necessarily those of President Wilson.
